

0	Someone lies on the floor with an anvil on their chest. Someone else hits the anvil with a sledgehammer. The anvil shields the first person from most of the sledgehammer's: a) momentum b) kinetic energy c) both d) neither
We should interpret "shields from most of X" to mean, "prevents the transmission of the sledgehammer's quantity of X, or less, into the person", and the answer is then B, kinetic energy.	We should interpret "shields from" to mean "prevents damage from" and the answer is then a) momentum