

0

Is it possible that average wages went up from 1950 to 1960, but went down for both men and women? Assume that the proportion of men to women can change. (This is not a historical example.)