

0

A train is coasting around a large circular track. It is then switched to a smaller circular track. How does its speed change? Assume no friction.

Speed gets slower

Speed stays constant.

6

Without a force acting parallel to velocity, does the magnitude of the velocity decrease?

It can

No